

Prostitution in the State of Brandenburg

What You Should Know

Prostitution is Not a Criminal Offense

Engaging in unregistered prostitution is not a criminal offense, provided you are legally permitted to work in Germany. However, it is considered an administrative offense.

What is an administrative offense? An administrative offense is a minor violation of the law that does not cause significant harm. It can result in a fine imposed by the authorities.

If you engage in prostitution, you are required to register with the Health and Public Order Office. Registration is free of charge.

For anonymous and confidential support from a non-governmental organization, please contact IN VIA:

WhatsApp: +49 163 67 80 33 8

Telephone: +49 157 87 81 89 00

E-Mail: streetwork@invia-berlin.de

Web: www.invia-streetwork.de

Additional information is available via the QR code below: For more details, watch the video linked to the QR code.

Publisher:

Ministerium für Gesundheit und Soziales

Henning-von-Tresckow-Str. 2–13, 14467 Potsdam

mgs.brandenburg.de

Picture credits: Anja von Kampen, visionX; IconsBox; Design: eckedesign, Potsdam;

Print: LGB Potsdam; Edition: 250 Exemplare; December 2024